LICTAWA, REENA B. Bachelor of Arts in Psychology, Department of Psychology, College of Arts and sciences, Central Luzon State university, Science City of Munoz, Nueva Ecija, Philippines, June 2017, DEMOGRAPHIC CHARACTERISTICS AND SEXUAL INTERCOURSE SATISFACTION AMONG FEMALE YOUNG ADULTS.

Adviser: Nixon V. Agaser

The study was conducted to determine the factors that influence sexual intercourse satisfaction among female young adults. To investigate if there is significant correlation between the demographic characteristics of participants and sexual intercourse satisfaction. Consist of sixty (60) females that is sexually active and in relationship are the respondents of the study. The age of respondents is 18 to 30 years old. The results of this study showed that the demographics characteristics has no significant relationship to sexual intercourse satisfaction. It can't influence the sexual intercourse satisfaction among female young adults by demographic characteristics of respondents. However, age of sexual intercourse has significant correlation to location of sex and it is the only correlated between the two variables. Also, study found the different factors that influence the sexual intercourse satisfaction among female young adults are the location of sex, time of sex, body image, penis size and moaning among female young adults. In addition, the most influencing factors of sexual intercourse satisfaction among female is the location of sex and moaning creating by their partner during sexual intercourse.
